Counter Terrorism, National Security & Radicalisation | Criminal Justice, Regulatory & Public Law | Human Rights & International Law Cases

Counter Terrorism, National Security & Radicalisation:

- Sultana is widely recognized as one of the foremost experts in Counter-Terrorism, National Security, and Radicalization cases, with a portfolio of approximately 35 high-profile and landmark cases that have garnered both national and international attention. Her unique expertise spans the Criminal Courts, Coronial Courts, Administrative & Family Divisions of the High Court, and the Appellate Courts.
- She has a profound understanding of the multifaceted challenges presented by factual, evidential, legal, and strategic complexities in these types of cases. Her work often delves into cutting-edge law, theological content, extensive digital evidence, highly sensitive 'secret' materials, complex disclosure issues, and intricate dimensions of human rights. Some of the landmark and guideline cases she has acted in include:
 - Criminal cases: at the Central Criminal Court in R v Boular & Others (2018) - first all-female ISIS cell dubbed 'The Tea Party'; R v Rahman & Choudhury (2016) - inviting support for ISIS; R v Shakeel & Others (2008) - conspiracy to cause explosions with intent to endanger life, (7/7 bombings of the London transport system).
 - Appellate level: before the Court of Appeal, R v Kahar [2016] EWCA Crim 568, guideline case on sentences for s. 5 Terrorism Act 2006, preparation for acts of terrorism; and R v HA [2018] 1 WLR 6105, definition of "terrorist publication" and interplay with Article 10 ECHR.

- High Court proceedings: Acted in Terrorism Prevention & Investigations Measures (TPIMs) - EB v Secretary of State for the Home Department (2017); Radicalisations cases in the High Court Family Division - Re (C) 2017; Inquiries & Inquests - London Bridge Inquests (2019).
- Advisory: She is part of the Organisation of Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) Roster of Criminal Justice Sector Experts dealing with Counter-Terrorism; and Legal Advisory Panel, The People's Review of Prevent.

Criminal Justice, Regulatory & Public Law

- With extensive experience, Sultana leads in high-profile cases spanning terrorism, homicide, and white-collar criminal matters. She possesses a wealth of expertise in managing lengthy multi-handed cases with complex legal and factual matrices. Sultana is well-versed in jury trials and has a strong track record in handling appellate cases, frequently representing clients at the Central Criminal Court and the Court of Appeal in England & Wales. Additionally, she appears in Inquests and Inquiries, demonstrating a versatile legal practice.
- She has vast experience in dealing with expert evidence relating to hi-tech evidence (phone & computer downloads, cell site & call data, social media & internet activities); scientific evidence (forensic, medical, pathology, psychology & psychiatry); 'gang' related evidence (drill music, affiliations & memberships, police 'expert' evidence, joint enterprise); financial evidence (banking & accounting evidence, surveillance & search warrants, disclosure & abuse of process).
- Sultana advises and represents large multinational corporations on issues at the intersection of criminal law and human rights obligations across multiple jurisdictions. She also advises on matters pertaining to inadvertent breaches of such laws and obligations in the course of corporate activities.

Human Rights and International Law:

- Sultana advises and represents diverse clientele, including individuals, non-governmental organizations, and State Parties, representing them before regional and UN human rights mechanisms. Her practice encompasses international human rights, international criminal law, and humanitarian law issues. In addition to litigation, she engages in a wide array of advisory, consultancy, and capacity-building activities in these critical areas.
- Sultana holds a number of national and international human rights-related appointments, including Chair of the Bar Standards Board Taskforce on Religion & Belief, Council Member for JUSTICE; the Advisory Board of Influencing Corridors of Power (ICOP), SOAS, University of London; Member of Legal Expert Advisory Panel for Fair Trials International (LEAP); Special Advisor on Human Rights for the Oxford Initiative for Global Ethics and Human Rights; Member of the Detention Experience Community of Avocat Sans Frontieres (ASF); and Founder of Girls Human Rights Hub.
