

Daniel Oscroft

Call: 2003

"He is super intelligent, very creative and thinks outside the box."

Chambers UK 2024

Daniel Oscroft has a diverse and busy criminal practice. He has extensive experience defending and prosecuting serious criminal cases all over the country, primarily in the West Midlands.

Daniel is regularly instructed in matters involving murder, serious violence, fraud, drugs, sexual offences, and death by driving cases. He is frequently instructed as a leading junior, as well as a junior alone, or being led by Kings Counsel.

Expertise

Crime

Daniel specialises in cases involving homicide, serious violence, organised crime and high-value fraud. His recent cases have included murder, multiple kilogram drug distribution, kidnap and torture, multi-million pound tax fraud, fabricated or induced illness (FII) child abuse, and causing death by dangerous driving.

In many of these cases the evidence was substantial and complex, requiring analysis of phone and cell site material, CCTV, and whole hard drives of digital evidence. His ability to quickly and efficiently read, digest and cross-reference vast quantities of material is a real advantage in more complicated cases. Daniel's technological experience and ability is well known on the Midland Circuit and he frequently provides training and assistance to other lawyers.

Daniel is a Grade 4 prosecutor for the CPS including the Fraud, Confiscation and Serious Crime Specialist Panels. He has also been instructed to prosecute cases on behalf of the Treasury Solicitor, local authorities, MOD Police and the DVSA.
