

Emma Hogan

Call: 1996

Emma Hogan practises in all aspects of personal injury, including road traffic accidents, accidents at work, occupiers' liability, tripping and slipping claims and public liability claims. She has experience in fraudulent claims (on both sides) including those involving staged accidents, bogus passenger claims, low-velocity impact arguments and Fundamental Dishonesty.

Emma works for both Claimants and Defendants and is happy to accept instructions for telephone hearings and to conduct conferences and trials remotely as required.

Emma read History at The Queen's College, Oxford before being called to the Bar in 1996 by Middle Temple by whom she was twice awarded an Astbury Scholarship.

She was appointed as a member of the Attorney General's panel of Junior Counsel to the Crown [2000- 2007] dealing with personal injury, Coroners' inquests and employment law. Emma represented a wide range of government departments in often complex and sensitive cases.
