

Jane Ingram

HHJ Jane Ingram is a Retired Circuit Judge, who sits in retirement on the Midlands Circuit. She specialises in Financial Remedy; Business and Property Court; and Civil work and has a special interest in private Financial Dispute Resolution (PFDR) hearings; including TOLATA/and Business and Property Court FDR, and neutral evaluations.

Originally trained as a solicitor, HHJ Jane Ingram has had a Judicial career of over 20 years, and has extensive experience in complex financial remedy work, including cases involving business assets, pensions, and high value portfolios. Her background informs a clear, structured, and balanced evaluative style, while all private work is undertaken entirely separately from judicial duties.

She provides focused, confidential, and impartial guidance designed to assist parties in narrowing issues and progressing towards settlement. She accepts instructions for private FDRs, neutral evaluations, and related evaluative ADR in financial remedy matters. She can also undertake neutral evaluations in Inheritance Act and TOLATA Dispute Resolution, as she also has extensive experience in Business and Property Court Disputes.
